We will have a stall at the Night Flea Market hosted by Sustainable University

Kurashiki, June 7,

Will Partners is pleased to announce that it will be opening a stall at the one-night-only Night Flea Market hosted by Sustainable University.

In support of the corporate philosophy of vector Inc. (Head office: Okayama City, Okayama Prefecture; CEO: Tomohiro Murakawa), the leader of Sustainable University, "Toward a World without Garbage Bags," we will participate in the Night Flea Market to sell quality Japanese products and use them for a long time, thereby contributing to the "recycling-based society with less environmental impact. We would like to contribute to the realization of an environmentally friendly, recycling-oriented society.

Through our business activities, we will continue to actively promote one of the SDGs goals, "Responsibility to Create Responsibility to Use" (we aim to reduce waste by using high-quality products made in Japan for a long time).

We will continue to actively promote "Responsibility to Create and Responsibility to Use," one of the SDGs, through our business activities.

"Vector University" was launched in Okayama in March 2012 as a study group open to the public that provides a "place to learn" for working people and students. With the mission of "Revolutionizing Learning," we have welcomed 99 guests over the past 10 years and provided a "place to learn" on a variety of themes. With the recent calls for "SDGs" and "sustainable society" being heard loudly in Japan and around the world, we have decided to hold the 100th event in the hope of providing a lasting "learning experience" and expanding the circle of learning even further. In order to deliver learning in a lasting way and to further expand this circle of learning, we are changing the name of the event to "Sustainable University" at the time of its 100th anniversary. We will provide not only "earth-friendly" but also a "place of learning" to nurture the creators of a sustainable society in order to maintain our lives, including corporate and social activities, so that all people involved can become a part of a recycling-oriented society and contribute to a sustainable society. We aim to contribute to the realization of a sustainable society by providing a "place to learn" that fosters the creators of a sustainable society in order to sustain our lives, including corporate activities and social activities.
